For Release - Thursday, April 20, 2017

WALLINGFORD, CONN. 2017 – TriCircle, Inc., a Connecticut-based non-profit organization committed to ending substance abuse, will host its first annual “Walk the Walk for Recovery” fundraiser on Saturday May 6, 2017.

“Substance abuse is more rampant than ever,” says Ana M. Gopoian, Founder and Executive Director of TriCircle, Inc. “and while few are discussing real solutions, the current opioid epidemic is ravaging our country, taking the lives 144 people per day. It is a national health crisis, and we need to come together to solve it. Clearly, the current approach to treatment is not working. TriCircle, Inc. is dedicated to providing a solution to the cycle of relapse and recidivism inherent in the current system by offering long-term, residential treatment with a comprehensive, uninterrupted continuum of care. TriCircle, Inc.’s approach will enable individuals and their families to live their lives in long-term recovery with all the resources they need to succeed.”

Invited guests include Richard Blumenthal, United States Senator for Connecticut, Don Fertman, Chief Development Officer of Subway and State Representative Sean Scanlon, D-Branford/Guilford, and Phil Valentine, Executive Director of Connecticut Community for Addiction Recovery. Once opening ceremonies are over, the Walk itself will begin with a ribbon cutting at the starting line.

“The goal of the event is to raise awareness of TriCircle, Inc.’s much needed and one-of-a-kind approach to substance abuse and mental health treatment, as well as to spotlight the overall challenges this country is facing in battling addiction. The opioid epidemic is a national health crisis and it needs to be treated like one,” said Don Fertman of Subway, who is also in recovery.

“TriCircle, inc.’s approach to helping people beat addiction is to provide a seamless transition from short-term medical care to long-term resilience,” said Representative Mary Mushinsky, D-Wallingford “They teach patients how to strengthen their own reserves and return to the community.”

Participants can walk in honor of loved ones who struggle with a substance abuse disorder or in memory of a loved one lost to this disease. The details of TriCircle, Inc.’s 1st Annual Walk the Walk for Recovery, on May 6, are on the attached flyer.
